Experience

DDG / Associate

2015 - PRESENT, BALTIMORE, MARYLAND- U.S.A.

During my tenure at DDG I have been able to exercise a keen eye for details and materials that has been garnered by designing macro - micro scale solutions and regularly partaking in CEU certification seminars.

This ultimately resulted in my oversight of Project final submissions, working along with multiple studio teams from Project Concept through Design Development.

I was also given the title of In-House Interiors Coordinator where I was responsible for project interior and exterior final looks. This entailed materials and amenities research, procurement of materials for the studio library, material board final submissions and representing the company at NeoCon and Industry Events. I was able to develop a studio standard process for materials documentation which has been adopted to date.

DDG / Project Designer

JULY 2006 - OCT 2015, BALTIMORE, MARYLAND- U.S.A.

Upon commencement I have been able to infuse my talents to contribute to team projects in a meaningful way. I received initial training in coordination of area calculations and data tabulation, organization of lease outline drawing submittals and master plan tabulation for large scale commercial projects. I was also highly involved in the design and formation of several international submissions for which DDG has secured. I have also actively participated in the model and presentation process for winning team projects both at the regional and international level. During this period I inspired the company's first social media outreach program

DDG Travelle and organized numerous company lunch and learns with product representatives.

The Architectural Studio / Draftsman-Junior Designer

JULY 2002 - JULY 2005, NASSAU, BAHAMAS

During this period I was employed part time while attending college and thereafter sought mid-semester employment at the firm. In 2004 I was promoted to a junior designer and worked on a wide array of projects of large scale site development, small commercial enterprises and single family residential. Other projects include, resort site development, commercial and government offices. I also assisted in a submission for a National Competition and with product specification documents.

Design Haus / Draftsman

JAN 2001 - MAY 2002, NASSAU, BAHAMAS

Received formal training in the creation and production of schematic & construction document sets via computer aided drafting. Assisted in the completion of room documentation which included plans, interior elevations, notations and detailing that simultaneously correlated to my college course also taught by Mr. Braynen. This work study opportunity allowed invaluable insight in the correlation of drafting table to real world application. During this period I worked on a variety of projects which include, residential, an aviation hangar, becoming familiarized with the Butler Building System, and on interior design layouts for the Bahamas National Gallery of Art, a renovated 18th century colonial mansion.
